disposal had not been considered by his colleagues. Mr. Brown was requested to state his views on this point, and he replied that the Opposition were half the House, and ought to be represented in the Government. Messrs. McDonald, Carter, and Galt said this was impossible, but they would see the Opposition state their views on Monday. On Monday at 10.30 a.m., Messrs. McDonald, Carter, and Galt called on Mr. Brown at the St. Louis Hotel, and stated that Mr. Brown had returned to town. Mr. Brown accompanied them to the Provincial Secretary's room, where Mr. Brown, having been asked to explain how he proposed to arrange equal representation in the Cabinet, replied that he desired to be represented as equal to the four members for Upper Canada and two for Lower Canada should be of the Opposition. In reply, Messrs. Carter and Galt stated that, as far as related to the constitution of the Cabinet for Lower Canada, they believed that it already afforded ample guarantee for their minority, and that a change in its personnel would be more likely to produce embarrassment than assistance, as the majority of the people of Lower Canada, both French and English, had implicit confidence in their leaders, which it would not be desirable to shake in any way. In the appended question of settling the sectional difficulties, it appeared to them essential that the party led by Sir E. P. Tache should have ample representation in the Cabinet, which would be protected, which it was feared would not be strengthened by the inclusion of the cabinet of the Lower Canada Opposition.

Mr. McDonald stated that as regards Upper Canada, in his opinion, the reduction to 2 of the number of members in the Cabinet who now represented Upper Canada would involve the withdrawal of the consent of those who support them in the House of Assembly, but that he would be prepared for the admission into the Cabinet of a gentleman of the Opposition, on being associated with him would bring with them a support equal to that now enjoyed by the Government from Upper Canada. Mr. Brown asked in what manner it is proposed the 6 Upper Canada members should be selected. Was each party to have carte blanche in suggesting to the Head of the Government the names to be chosen, to which Mr. McDonald replied that as a matter of course, he would expect Mr. Brown to be himself a member of the Administration, as affording the best, if not the only guarantee for the admission of his friends. That Mr. McDonald on Mr. Brown giving his consent, would confer with him as to the selection of Upper Canada members from both sides who should be most acceptable to their respective friends, and most likely to work harmoniously for the great object which alone could justify the arrangement proposed. Mr. Brown then enquired what Mr. McDonald proposed to regard to the Upper Canada leadership. Mr. McDonald said that as far as he was concerned, he could not with propriety, or without diminishing his usefulness, after his position, but that he had been for some time anxious to retire from the Government, and would be quite ready to facilitate arrangements by doing so. Of course he could not retire from the Government without Sir E. P. Tache's consent. Mr. Brown then stated that without discussing the propriety or reasonableness of the proposition, he would commit his friends to give a reply. Tuesday the representation of the occupied during the forenoon in consulting their friends a meeting was held at 2 p.m., at which were present Sir E. P. Tache, Mr. McDonald, Mr. Carter, Mr. Galt, and Mr. Brown. Mr. Brown stated that his friends had held a meeting and approved of his resignation, and that he had been arrived at, and authorized him to come to the negotiations. Mr. McDonald and Mr. Carter also stated that they had received satisfactory assurances from their friends. Mr. Brown then stated that he was now for him to enter into the arrangements in case Mr. Brown and his friends accepted office, were discussed at much length. Mr. Brown then stated strongly that the government should choose a larger representation in the Cabinet than the members to which it was entitled, and that the administration should be quite impossible to satisfy their own friends with a different arrangement. Mr. Brown then asked whether he could be sworn as an Executive Council member or salary, in addition to the three salaries and offices to be held by his friends. Mr. McDonald then replied that the principle of equality would in this case be destroyed, and he was satisfied it could not be done. Mr. Brown asked whether it was a wise move that he should himself enter the Cabinet, to which he replied that it was to secure a successful issue to the attempt to settle the sectional difficulties it was considered that Mr. Brown's acceptance of office was indispensable. A meeting was then appointed for the following day, on Wednesday a little after one o'clock, the same parties met, when Mr. Brown stated as his chief reason for not consenting to the resignation of Sir E. P. Tache, as proposed, but inasmuch as he wished to assume the responsibility of the government, he preferred leaving till after the prorogation of the House, and the consideration of the acceptance of his resignation by the two gentlemen who might be ultimately selected to enter administration with him. Sir E. P. Tache, and Mr. McDonald then stated that after the prorogation they would be prepared to place their names in the Cabinet at the disposal of Mr. Brown.
